DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, pervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does! It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

DISORDER IN PHILADELPAIA.

As was stated in the Gazette, the Jewish quarter in the southeastern section of Philadelphia was the scene of wild disorder yesterday when the women of the quarter made demonstrations against all of the Kosher butchers as a protest against an increase in the price of beef. The shops were invaded by the angry women, prospective customers driven out, windows broken and kerosene in a number of instances poured over all the meat in sight. A demonstration was made against two police station-houses in which several of the women were held prisoners and the police were compelled to use considerable force in dispersing the crowd.

Despite the strenuous efforts of the police the disorders continued throughout the greater portion of the day, and at noon nearly 50 arrests of men and women had been made. Some of the accused, including women, were sent to jail for five days.

One of the most serious outbreaks of the day occurred in the afternoon near the southern end of the Jewish section. The police adopted stern measures, and after making a number of arrests dispersed the crowd with great difficulty. The police magistrates decided to send to jail all prisoners brought before them from the disturbed section in order to put an end to the disturbance. The police fear that the women, in their inflamed condition, might set the butcher shops on fire, and they are bending every energy in keeping the streets clear of crowds.

At a mass meeting, attended by nearly a thousand Hebrew women, held for the purpose of devising means for continuing the boycott of the Kosher butcher shops, a committee of a hundred women was appointed to go through the homes in the southern section of the city and destroy all meat that they may find.

The women, it is said, were provided with carbolic acid, kerosene and other poisons, which was used to destroy the meat. Many speeches were made condemning the butchers for advancing the price of meat.

The women allege the retailers have been charging 14 cents and 16 cents a pound for meat which last year at this season could be bought for 10 cents and 12 cents. More than 1,000 women met Wednesday night and formed an organization. They pledged themselves to use all possible efforts to influence other Jewish women to join in the movement against the butchers. A committee of 30 women was appointed, and they were instructed to post pickets around all kosher shops to urge prospective purchasers not to buy.

As a consequence of the disorders, it is said, the butchers will reduce the price of beef two cents a pound, making the cost the same as that which prevailed prior to the eight days' fast of the Jews, which expired last Monday.

PRINCE WILHELM AT THE EXPOSITION.

His Royal Highness, Prince Wilhelm, second son of Crown Prince Gustave, and grandson of King Oscar, of Sweden, will arrive in Hampton Roads, on the cruiser, "Fulgia," August 19, and will remain at the Exposition for three days, August 19, 20 and 21. The United States navy will join in the reception and for the three days that the prince is there he will receive attention which will be royal.

The 19th will be devoted to the paying and receiving of calls, to be followed in the evening by a dinner at the Hotel Chamberlin given by the Swedish Minister. On the 20th he will be tendered a banquet at the Virginia Club, Norfolk, Virginia, by the Swedish Vice Consul, Henning Fernstron. The arrangement for the programme on the 21st is yet to be made, but which will no doubt be a round of reception and calls.

There are sixty naval cadets accompanying the "Sailor Prince," and they will be given a grand ball on the night of August 20 in the Convention Hall, Jamestown Exposition.

At the close of the prince's visit to the exposition, the cadets will leave for Washington, and His Royal Highness will go to Oyster Bay, thence to Newport, Providence and New York. While at the latter place he will participate in a dinner given by the Swedes at the Hotel Astor on the 29th of August. At this celebration there will be six-hundred students from Linsburg College, Linsburg, Kansas, who will also participate in the exercises. Every year these students hold a saengerfest and great efforts will be made by the exposition officials to have them visit the exposition during the prince's stay to participate in the musical features.

A HEROINE.

Miss Maybelle Watson, of Berkely, Cal., the 18-year-old heroine, who supported a drowning woman for two hours, after the wreck of the steamship Columbia, was one of the passengers arriving at Portland, Oregon, on the George W Elder. Miss Watson, with three companions, succeeded in entering a lifeboat, but it had hardly been lowered when the Columbia sank, the occupants being thrown into the water. "When I came to the surface," said Miss Watson, "some persons were singing 'Nearer, My God to Thee,' and other hymns. I had never swam a stroke before, but somehow I had confidence enough to try. I had gone but a little way when a woman rose beside me and caught me around the neck. I had to support her with one arm and swim with the other. Several men passed us, but would offer no assistance. I struggled along as best I could until I was picked up more than two hours after the collision by Third Officer Hawse and his boat. I insisted that he take the woman in first, which he did, and he soon had me out of the water. The boat crew thought she was dead, and so did the doctors on the San Pedro, but, to oblige Mr. Hawse, they made a determined effort to save her and succeeded." The woman to whom Miss Watson refers is Miss Emma Griese, of Cleveland, O.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 26, 1907.

THE GREAT city of New York, with as many policemen as would equal the population of a thriving city, was yesterday the center of a great crime wave. Lax police control is said to be the principal cause of the crime wave. General Bingham, the police commissioner, will probably be retired by the Mayor of New York, unless there is some improvement in conditions there in a few days. Already there are charges of cowardice against several policemen for failure to arrest a double murderer who staved off "the finest" with a six-shooter and had to be taken by a truck driver wielding a bale hook. Meanwhile the commissioner has admitted his own inability to deal with the situation by warning citizens to take matters into their own hands, and thus help put an end to the present era of crime and criminal outbreaks. The crime wave is by no means confined to New York, but a propensity to shed human blood seems to be apparent in many places in the United States and other countries while sporadic disorders are reported daily. The scenes in Philadelphia yesterday in which many women played prominent parts, are to be deplored.

HERR GUILLERY, an official of the archive bureau of the Prussian railway administration, has prepared a comparative table of statistics of those killed and injured by railways in various countries. He finds that both absolutely and relatively the railroads in the United States are the most deadly. The United States has more mileage than all Europe, but even taking that into consideration, the United States holds pre-eminence in proportional figures. It is a little difficult to reduce the casualty statistics of our own and foreign railroads to a perfectly uniform basis, but the Interstate Commerce Commission publishes the appalling figures of the killed and wounded on our railroads every three months, and we fear that Herr Guillery has abundant foundation for his conclusion that absolutely and relatively the railroads of the United States are the most deadly in the world. There may be a reason for this, but there is no possible justification. The railroads of Europe give good service, run at high speed and kill and injure few persons. If they can do it our railroads can, and it behooves our railroad officials to prove it.

MR. BRYAN is authority for the statement that President Roosevelt's ideas of international morality have been improved since the Spanish-American war. In "The Commoner" today Mr. Bryan says:

Dispatches from The Hague under date of July 12 said that the American delegates appointed by Mr. Roosevelt supported the French proposal, which was to the effect that there must be a declaration of war before the opening of hostilities. It will be remembered that former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long said that, while Mr. Roosevelt was Assistant Secretary of the Navy, he advised the sinking of the Spanish fleet before a declaration of war had been made. This story, as vouched for by Mr. Long and also by Francis E Leupp, one of Mr. Roosevelt's friends, was set forth at length in a recent issue of The Commoner. Now, according to The Hague dispatches, the same man who advised the attack upon Spain before declaration of war appoints delegates to The Hague who urge that such an attack be made unlawful by an agreement.

Mr. Bryan adds: "The world moves, and every one gathers wisdom as the days go by."

THE NEW regulations governing the sale of tobacco, especially cigarettes, will be made public on August 1st. The regulations will provide that the manufacturer, when paying his tax on cigaretter, shall make affidavit that he "has not entered into and will not enter into any oral or written agreement with any person or persons or firms, by which they will have exclusive sale of such cigarettes," but that they will sell to the trade generally. Furthermore, collectors of internal revenue, under the new regulations, are directed to see that such cigarettes are not sold to any firm exclusively, and that they are not sold at a price in excess of that given in by the manufacturer when the tax is paid. These regulations will prove to be a severe blow to the tobacco trust.

THE OFFICERS of the Board of Education in Richmond seem to be slower even than usual this year in sending out their annual blanks to the superintendents of schools of the several cities and counties. The annual examinations are to be held throughout the State next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, but so far as known no examination blanks have been received by the superintendents in this section. Only today the blanks for the annual reports to be made out by the clerks were received in this city and neighboring counties, and those blanks are different from those heretofore furnished. As these reports are supposed to be made out by August 1st, but little time is given the clerks for their work.

A MIXED school for the children of Brookland and vicinity is the suggestion made to the District of Columbia Commissioners by O. T. Taylor, a colored man of Brookland, and it is said that other members of his race will aid him in his persistency for mixed schools in Washington.

From Washington.

[Correspondende of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, July 26.

That William Jennings Bryan will loom up prominently in the railroad rate conflict between the State authorities of North Carolina and Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, of the United States Circuit Court, before the contest has gone much further, is confidently expected by those in Washington, who keep an eye on the Nebraskan. The attention of the North Carolina officials has been called to Bryan, through the fact that it was he who conducted the last fight before the Supreme Court of the United States, in which several questions similar to those in dispute were passed upon by the court. This was the case in which the constitutionality of the act of the Nebraska legislature to fix a maximum rate on freight and passenger traffic was involved. Although Nebraska lost the case, Bryan achieved a reputation for himself along this line of law, and the Carolinians now want the advantage of his knowledge and experience. Besides, the opportunity of appearing before the Supreme Court of the United States as the champion of State's rights, which is the real bone of contention, is one that a man with the oratorical gifts of Bryan could not well overlook. Should the contentions of the State be upheld, the South would be almost sure to whoop it up for Bryan. Should the State meet with defeat, matchless opportunities would be presented to talk of alleged subservient judiciaries and centralization of power in the executive. Any turn would call for more "crown of thorn" phrases, to send thrills chasing each other up and down democracy's spinal column. It is those political possibilities of the case that are worrying the national administration quite as much as the fear of a physical clash between the State and federal governments. Assistant Attorney General Sanford will make every effort today to get the railroad officials at Asheville, to agree to some such compromise as that proposed by Governor Glenn, and council of State at Raleigh yesterday. As a condition precedent to any compromise, Governor Glenn insists that the 2½ cent rate must go into effect until overruled by the Supreme Court of the United States. Speculation is being indulged in by local legal lights as to the course the Supreme Court will take when the case reaches it. It is held by some that the Nebraska case referred to affords a precedent for the recent rulings of Judge Pritchard. In both cases the railroads began action in the federal courts, on the ground of diversity of citizenship and of violation of the constitutional guarantee of property rights. With Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court, sitting in the Circuit Court, an injunction was granted in the Nebraska case, forbidding the board of transportation and the attorney general of the State from attempting to enforce the rate law. The Supreme Court affirmed this decision, Justice Harlan handing down the opinion. This was in 1898 and of the members who concurred in that opinion now on the bench, are Brewer, Harlan, White and Peckham. None dissented. One of the points made by the court in deciding the case, was that while rates for transportation within the limits of the State are primarily for a legislature's determination, the question whether they are so unreasonably low as to deprive the carrier of its property without due process of law cannot be so conclusively determined by the legislature that the matter may not become the subject of judicial inquiry before either state or federal courts having jurisdiction.

Pointing out that last March the government was informed that the powder trust was delivering to it smokeless powder inferior to the samples submitted, but blended in with standard grains, Robert S. Waddell, of the Buckeye Powder Company, of Peoria, Ills., has asked the President in an open letter, whether the flare-back, responsible for the fatal accident on the battleship Georgia, did not indicate that a part of the fraudulent powder was used on that occasion. "The men who perished may be charged with over-zeal, to eclipse the record for rapid firing, and they may have been the victims of other causes which were only aggravated by their zealous work," says Waddell. "Were samples of the powder retained for examination and test? Possibly some of it might disclose the same characteristics as the fatal shot that was fired." Waddell points out that prior to the Spanish war, the navy used black powder in active target practice, used it under stress of vigorous fighting at Manila and Santiago, delivering the maximum number of shots within the quickest time limit of rapid fire, with out disastrous explosions in turrets or magazines.

It is probable that President Diaz, of Mexico, will either act as arbitrator himself or will appoint a court of arbitration to settle the dispute which has arisen between Salvador and Nicaragua through the attack upon the Port of Acajulta belonging to the former country by a party of filibusterers conveyed in the Nicaraguan gunboat Momotombo. Salvador regards that attack and the subsequent raid of the invaders into her territory as an insult to the national honor, and has demanded reparation.

Acting Secretary of State Bacon has asked Senor Mejia, the minister from Salvador, for a full statement from his government on the case of the two American citizens, George and Alfred Moissant, who were imprisoned by Salvadorean officials on charges of being concerned in a revolutionary movement for the overthrow of President Figueroa. The men have been released, but their property, which is quite extensive, has been attached pending a disposition of the case.

A dispatch from Clinton, Ill., says Miss Margaret Magill states that her mother, Mrs. Pet Magill, committed suicide. The daughter's testimony apparently clears her father, Fred Magill, of all blame for her mother's death and sweeps away all suspicion that the State authorities attach to his movements after his wife's death. She exonerates Faye Graham Magill, her stepmotner, and declares no blame attaches to her for her mother's death.

The ruins of W. S. Hemingway's hardware store at Otter Lake, Mich., are being searched today for the victims of a peculiar accident last night. A bolt of lightning struck the building and set off a quanity of dynamite. Maynard Hemingway had been alone in the store when the bolt came. His wife, frightened by the storm, hurried to the store with her five-year-old child. These are known to have perished. It is believed that a customer was also in the building. Fire followed the bolt and explosion and the bodies of all the victims were practically consumed.

MOTORMAN SEES GHOST.

Passengers on a Brighton Beach train bouud for the shore early yesterday morning received a bad shaking up just after leaving the Sheepshead Bay station. The train had hardly got under full headway when the motorman put on the airbreaks, bringing it shrieking to a quick stop, tossing the few passengers around and throwing several on the floor.

Visions of a wreck started them toward the doors, but they were halted by the guards, who refused to open the gates, owing to the danger from the third rail. The motorman, white as a ghost, came out of the box and explained that a man had appeared on the track and he was sure the train had run over him.

The train crew, accompanied by several of the most venturesome of the passengers, climbed down on to the rails and went over the ground for some distance searching also along the edge of the new enbankment on which the tracks run at that point, but there was not a sign of a body.

For about fifteen minutes the search continued, but without result, and the passengers began to wonder if the motorman had not had a nightmare. He insisted, however, that he had seen the motor car strike a man.

He went back into the box and continued his trip, but announced when the train reached the Coney Island terminal that he was going to take a few days off and rest. It was said by one of the train crew that several of the motormen along the line had had just such an apparition, and that they were at a loss to account for it unless it could be attributed to the shadows from the trees or posts along the track which were affected fantastically by the searchlights on the trains.

THE RAILROAD RATE MATTER.

After a conference with Gov. Glenn and the council of State, Assistant Attorney General Sanford left Raleigh, N. C., yesterday afternoon. It is said he will confer with officials of the Southern Railway in regard to the situation as developed there yesterday.

After the close of the conference in the afternoon Gov. Glenn gave out a statement saying that he had rejected the proposal submitted by Mr. Sanford, and had himself made a counter-proposition, the substance of which was that the railroad must acknowledge the 2 1-4 cents law and put it in effect before other matters can be considered. He will be willing then to let the Asheville habeas corpus case and the Raleigh case, in which the Southern Railway was fined $30,000, take their regular course in the federal and State courts respectively, and allow every effort to be made to expediate the final hearing. In that event he will counsel citizens not to bring penalty suits against the railroad.

Asked what he would do in case the railroads refused to accept the terms offered, the governor said that there was nothing left for him to do under his oath but to execute the law as best he could. He said that at this crisis of affairs, if no amicable adjustment could be made, he would assemble the legislature in extra session, lay the whole situation before it, and let that body take such action as it felt just and right.

The significance of the suggestion that the legislature be called in extra session lies in the intimation that it will be called upon to deal with questions of eminent domain. This is important, in view of the fact that the North Carolina Railroad, owned by the State and leased to the Southern Railway, is the key to the Southern's system in North Carolina and between the parts of its system north and south of the State.

Mr. Sanford asked the governor if he desired to confer with the railroad authorities. The governor told him that he would be glad to meet representatives of the roads and discuss all matters of detail, but he further told Mr. Sanford that it would be useless for him to see the railway representatives if they expected him to annul the act of the legislature, for that course is strictly forbidden by the constitution of North Carolina in the article referred to in his telegram to Mr. Brown.

MRS. AYRES TO SUE.

Lieut. Col. Charles G. Ayres, of the Tenth United States Cavalry, was officially informed yesterday of his retirement from active duty in the army. His only comment was: "I am a soldier. My commander-in-chief has issued his order and I shall accept it without comment."

Mrs. Ayres, now that Col. Ayres has been retired, seeing no further reason for withholding her version of the events leading up to his retirement, said:

"Col. Ayres has been hounded out of the service by a clique of officers wives who are jealous of me, and who have influenced their weak-minded husbands to strike at me through my husband.

Why, do you know that Assistant Adjutant General McKane sent a telegram 'collect' announcing my husband's retirement, and the colonel had to pay 45 cents to the telegraph company? They had no right to retire the colonel. He was passed by a medical board a month ago, when he was promoted from major to lieutenant colonel. If he was physically well enough to pass then, how is it that he is retired now? I shall bring suit against Col. Mills, Col. Howze, Col. Scott, and Capt. Oliver for conspiracy and slander, and thus bring the entire matter before the courts. Col. Ayres is, at fifty-three, after thirty years in the army, turned out with $250 a month pay."

Today's Telegraphic News.

Assaulted by Nine Men.

New York, July 26.—Miss Virginia Ida Barish, the 17-year-old daughter of Alexander Barish, an Austrian, is a raving maniac today as the result of a fiendish attack made upon her by nine men, who dragged her into the woods near North Beach and tore every stitch of clothing from her body. The attack was made Wednesday, but the facts became known today for the first time when her father identified her at the King's county hoepital.

Deputy Sheriff Talbot was walking along the beach when he saw a naked girl rush from the woods and dash into the surf in an effort to drown herself. With great difficulty he rescued her. Several men who had rushed to the scene wrapped their coats about her. She said nine men had dragged her into the woods and nearly killed her. Her body was covered with bruises. The men found her tattered clothes at the place she indicated. They were torn to bits. The girl did not recognize her father today.

Alexander Barish said he took his family to North Beach Wednesday to spend the day and that his daughter disappeared about the middle of the afternoon. He is almost on the verge of insanity himself, so great is his anguish over the condition of his daughter, and his friends say they will search for the nine fiends through every part of this section of the country.

Miss Barish was a pretty girl, but her expression has become so contorted through pain and horror that she looks but little like her former self as she raves at the hospital.

Fugitive Drowned Himself.

New York, July 26.—Having tasted blood when Frank H. Warner was run down and fatally beaten, wildly enraged over repeated murders, assassinations and fiendish attacks upon girl children, New York is mob-crazy today, and a man who slashed the face of a street car motorman was chased by an infuriated crowd until he jumped into East river and was drowned. The car had stopped because of an accident to the machinery, and John Blackman, the motorman, was trying to fix it when a dark-skinned man drew a long knife and attacked him, cutting a deep wound across his face. The passengers immediately attacked the assailant. In the chase he twice passed the Hamilton avenue police station in Brooklyn, but he was brandishing his great knife and no one dared approach close enough to seize him. "Lynch him!" cried a dozen voices, and the mob grew rapidly. The man heard the cries and was so terrified that he ran out the India Brewery pier and plunged into the water where he was drowned. His identity was not learned by the police. While the Brooklyn mob was chasing its victim, a crowd of angry men was storming the New Drop, S. I., police station, demanding Joseph Nopwyak, a 54-year-old man, charged with attacking five-year-old Annie Falkowcko, after luring her from her home. The mob was after much difficulty driven back by the police.

Transferring Ordnance.

Boston, July 26.—For the last two weeks, it was learned today, officers from the United States ordnance bureau have been visiting the forts along the New England coast to find what big guns and mortars could be spared for shipment to the Pacific coast and the far east. Believing that the harbors at Boston, New Bedford, Portland and other New England points can protect themselves in the remote contingency of war, with fewer guns, supplemented by mines and better coast defense methods, the government has determined to ship a number of pieces of heavy ordnance to the Philippines. While the utmost secrecy has been maintained regarding this project it is said that the government has already engaged steamships and "flatters" for the transportation of the guns. Color is lent to this news by the fact that for the past few days officers from the ordnance department have been surveying the harbors of Boston and New Bedford, for the location of mines.

Woman Sentenced to Prison.

London, July 26.—Mrs. Josephine Leslie, the American woman who cut a wide swath in English society for several months on the strength of her professed friendship for wealthy Americans, was today sentenced to five years in prison on the charge of Miss Annie Blount, an Irish heiress, who accused Mrs. Leslie of obtaining $42,500 by false pretenses. Mrs. Leslie is the woman against whom J. Pierpont Morgan was called to testify at her police court hearing. She had used Morgan's name in her swindle of Miss Blount. On the stand the financier denied ever seeing or hearing of the woman. She induced Miss Blount to advance $42,500 to be invested. Later checks were given to Miss Blount for $100,000 and $125,000, but they were returned marked "no funds."

The Haywood Trial.

Boise, Idaho, July 25.—Senator Borah will consume all of today's session and complete his summing up for the State in the Wm. D. Haywood trial tonight. It is not likely that the case will go the jury until tomorrow. Three thousand people besieged the courthouse in an effort to get inside to hear the senator complete his argument. Judge Wood, however, ordered that none be admitted after the seats were filled, but the crowd remained outside.

Dispatches reporting that Walter T. Mills, a Seattle socialist has declared in a speech at Muscatine, Ia., that Haywood will be the next socialist presidential candidate, if acquitted here, has created a sensation about the court room.

Decision in Favor of Lady Bagot.

London, July 26.—The divorce court today handed down a decision in favor of Lady Bagot of Rugely, formerly Miss Lillian May, of Baltimore, restoring her rights as wife. It was alleged that the allowance of $4,000 made by Lord Bagot for the support of his wife and baby was insufficient. He left Lady Bagot at the time of the child's christening. It is understood the Lord will not resist the claim. If he should disobey the order of the court, Lady Bagot could sue for divorce.

A Warning to China.

Seoul, Korea, July 26.—"The fact that the Japanese have forgotten the American question in their consideration of the Korean events shows how slight was the importance attached to it," said Viscount Hayashi, foreign minister, today. He added: "The Korean case should serve as a lesson to China to prepare herself lest some stronger nation be forced to treat her as Japan has treated Korea."

Military-Athletic Carnival at Jamestown.

Jamestown Exposition, Va., July 26.—The Jamestown Military-Athletic Carnival which will be held at the Jamestown Exposition July 29, will be the greatest event of the sort ever attempted in the United States.

Both mounted and dismounted troops will participate, the carnival being open to all members of the regular army, National guard and military academy students. Commissioned officers of the regular army of the United States will act as judges.

The exercises will take place on Lee Parade, the thirty acre drill ground at the exposition, and will include every feature of military athletics known to the science.

Not only will the different events be full of interest, but most will be funny to the last degree. The blank cartridge race will resemble the old fashion "potato" race; the tent pitching contest will be very exciting, while the equipment race will be a test of quickness and endurance, the participants scattering their full military equipments over a distance of seventy yards, gathering them up again and replacing the various articles for inspection.

The great spectacular number will be the wall-scaling contest in which teams consisting of four men and a non-commissioned officer will go over a ten foot wall in fighting line, carrying light marching order equipment and firing as they go.

Then there will be obstacle race in which the contestants will dash through wire entanglements, leap hurdles, creep over long narrow bridges, and crawl through flour barrels, representing dark subterranean passages. No participant will be allowed to throw away his gun nor any of his equipment.

In addition to the above there will be exhibitions of rough riding, running jumping and mounted wrestling.

Forced to Sign No-Flirting Pledge.

Pittsburg, July 26.—Mary Mellows and Stephen Kerlook went to the marriage license, office eight months ago, secured a license and were wed. Yesterday Mary came back, leading Stephen by the hand. Inasmuch as she had secured the necessary right to marry at that particular office, Mary concluded that it should be there that she air her troubles. And she had them. Ever since her marriage she told License Clerk George Watson, her husband had persistently flirted with other girls. Do what she would she could not break him of the habit, and even in church, when her head would be bowed in worship Stephen would be making eyes at the pretty girls around him. Once, she said, he went so far as to take another girl to church and march down into a second pew with her, while she occupied their family pew, scarcely able to control herself.

When Watson asked Kerlook if all this was true, without the least shame he admitted that it was true. "You will have to sign a pledge to quit flirting," Watson told Stephen. After much hesitation Stephen consented to take an oath and attach his signature to it, in which he agreed to never flirt again. Then the paper was given to Mary, and, happy once more, she left the marriage license office.

Bullet from Living Brain.

Lancaster, Pa., July 26.—Israel Anderson, a young man of Columbia, is expected to recover from a rare surgical operation performed at the Columbia Hospital. Last December he was accidentally shot in the head by his brother, the bullet entering an inch below the left eye. The wound was probod to a depth of almost four inches, but the bullet, lodged in the brain, was not removed.

Several weeks later Anderson returned to work in a rolling mill, and his case was considered remarkable. Recently severe pains in the head caused him to stop work, and, the bullet being located under X-rays, an operation was performed by opening the frontal bone. The bullet was removed from the brain, against which it had driven a small piece of smooth bone as large as a five-cent piece, which prevented the lead from causing laceration.

Long-Lost Papa Beat Her.

Pittsburg, July 26.—Twenty-two years ago when Walter Baker left his home in this city he left behind him his wife and a baby daughter, Annie. He intended to return the same day, but somehow forgot all about it, and for 22 years he roamed without hearing a word of the ones he left behind. Then he came home. The only member of his family that he succeeded in locating was Annie, now married to William Harden. He found them at their home on Logan street last evening. When Annie told him that she was a wife Baker's indignation knew no bounds. This morning the woman appeared before Magistrate Kimmel and declared that her father had given her a frightful beating after he discovered that she was married without his permission. A policeman arrived just in time to save Baker from the wrath of his son-in-law. Baker went to jail for 30 days.

Mass Meeting of Armenians.

New York, July 26.—Fifty prominent Armenians met in secret last night and issued a formal call for a mass meeting of their countrymen Saturday evening to raise funds and consider plans for the extermination of the blackmailing society which, after inspiring the assassination of Hovannes Tavshanjian, the millionaire importer, is flooding the city with demands for tribute on penalty of the same fate which Tavshanjian met. Today every one of the fifty, despite all their efforts at secrecy, received a communication warning him that further activity against the organization will mean his death.

Supposed Armenian Victim.

New York, July 26.—A boy, bearing a deep gash in the forehead, that might have been cut with an axe, was taken from the North river at Fortieth street today and caused considerable excitement because the features showed Armenian characteristics. The coroner is making a careful investigation to learn if it might be the body of another victim of the Hunchakists, who killed Tvanshanjian, the millionaire Armenian. The body was dressed, but the identity was not learned.

Cured of Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Keyshaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store.

Receivers Appointed.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., July 26.—Receivers were today appointed for the Mutual Investment Company, of Richmond, which has certificate holders in Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and North Carolina. The nominal assets are $143,000. Certificate holders may get 67 cents on the dollar. The postoffie Department recently barred the company from the mails on account of a lottery feature in the company's plan.

The Railroad Rate Matter.

Asheville, N. C., July 26.—Officials of the Southern Railway are in conference considering an ultimatum submitted to them by Governor Glenn last night. The governor has rather turned the tables on the company by his threat to call a special legislative session to annul the railroad's charter. His ultimatum provides for the immediate acceptance by the railroad of the 2½ cent rate, an appeal by the State from federal Judge Pritchard's orders discharging convicted Southern Railway ticket agents, an appeal by the railroads to the State Supreme Court, advancing both cases for an early hearing, and a cessation of further indictments until decisions are reached in the courts. Further than this the governor absolutely refuses to go.

Asheville, N. C. July 26.—Assistant Attorney General Sanford has returned from the state capitol where he went to confer with Governor Glenn looking to a peaceful solution of the railway rate controversy. He was in conference for sometime this morning with federal Judge Pritchard and also with Southern Railway officials. He will leave this afternoon for Washington to report that Judge Pritchard's course is not dissimilar from that pursued by other federal courts. The refusal of Governor Glenn to compromise has resulted in another tense situation and developments are hourly expected from Marion, near here, where State Judge Lyon is holding court and where he charged the grand jury to indict the railway and its agents for violation of the new rate law as they would a pig or a horse thief.

Quiet in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 26.—Fearing a repetition of yesterday's turbulent scenes and the consequent destruction of fifty tons of meat by the rioters, all the Kosher butcher shops in the southern section of the city were closed today.

Comparative quiet exists throughout the Ghetto, and although the crowds in the streets and especially in the vicinity of the butcher shops are greater than ordinary, there were no serious outbreaks.

Only three arrests were made this morning. One prisoner was Samuel Miller, who was haranguing a crowd in front of a butcher shop.

Two women, Mary Golden and Rosa Blazy, fell into the hands of the police for refusing to move on.

The closing of the meat stores worked no hardship to the Ghetto, as the fresh supply of fish was a welcome change, and all the women seen on the streets had their baskets filled with fish.

Mr. Bryans' Heroism.

Storm Lake, Ia., July 26.—Wm. J. Bryan is the hero of the summer colony here today, and is declared to have out Fairbanksed Fairbanks in the art of rescuing members of the gentle sex. Mr. Bryan had just addressed a crowd at the Chautauqua assembly where he was being entertained. A car driven by Mrs. E. B. Stillman, of Correctionville, crushed into the Nebraskans automobile. The vehicle started to turn turtle when Mr. Bryan leaped out and caught Mrs. H. W. Deal, who occupied a rear seat, in his arms and drove the two frightened women the rest of the way home himself.

Execution.

Montgomery, Ala., July 26—Galvin Coleman, a negro, paid the death penalty today on the gallows for the murder of James Findley, a white man, whose body was chopped into mincemeat. The execution was carried out early in the morning to avoid the crowd. He implicated a white man and another negro in the crime.

THE DOG LAW.

As so much complaint has been made of the running at large of licensed and unlicensed dogs, Mayor Paff has determined to enforce the following law, which is section 6 of chapter 27 of the city code:

It shall be the duty of the auditor to procure and furnish annually to all persons taking out a license as herein prescribed, a brass or other metal number or medal, having thereon some emblem or device of municipal authority to be worn on a collar by each dog so licensed; and said number to be arranged as to designate on the auditor's books, the name or names of persons procuring from him such licenses, together with their residences; and the mayor may in addition at any and all times, in his discretion by proclamation, declare that all the said animals as above licensed shall be properly and securely muzzled; and if any such animal of the dog kind shall be found running at large, during the continuance of such proclamation without the required muzzle it shall be seized by the officers and men of the police force, or other persons designated by the mayor for such purposes, and placed in a pound under the charge of the superintendent of police, whose duty it shall be to provide such place of confinement; provided however, that the cost theof shall not exceed twenty-five dollars; and if such animals be not redeemed within the period of forty-eight hours by the payment into the city treasury of a fine of one dollar, the superintendent of police shall have such animals conveyed to a suitable place and destroyed.

DESPERATE NEGRO AT LARGE.

The negro who attacked Brakeman J. E. Johnson on a Chesapeake and Ohio northbound freight train between Catlett's and Nokesville at an early hour yesterday morning is believed to be one of a trio who escaped from custody in Richmond recently. He is said to have received several cuts from the brakeman's lantern which was broken on his head, and the railroad officials are endeavoring to have him apprehended. The darkey is supposed to be somewhere in the vicinity of Manassas. When Brakeman Johnson approached the negro, who was on a car loaded with iron pipes, the desperado fired three shots, one of which went through the brakeman's shirt sleeve, another scraped the skin of his head and one wounded him on the right side of the face. The train was moving slowly at the time, and the brakeman discovering that the negro had two pistols, jumped from the car and boarded the caboose at the rear end of the train and reported his experience. The negro left the train before it reached Manassas. A stop was made at that place and the train crew and others spent about two hours in a vain search for the negro.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Attention was yesterday called to the fact that the validity of amendments to sections 46 and 50 of article 4 of the State constitution has been questioned for the reason that the same only appeared on the journal of the House of Delegates. Senator L. H. Machen today received an opinion from Attorney General Anderson questioning the validity of the amendments by reason of an error on the part of the clerk of the Senate in not spreading them in full on the journal of that body. The Attorney General, however, recognizes the amendments as valuable. Mr. Machen has telegraphed the clerk of the Senate to publish the amendments in full in order that their validity can be tested by a writ of prohibition from the Court of Appeals. Mr. Machen says the amendments were passed under the same conditions that others were adopted under the old constitution.

NO STRIKE DECLARED.

At the meeting of the bricklayers' union, of Washington, held last night, the expected strike was not declared. The fact that the Employers' Association refused to grant a conference with the bricklayers' union is made light of by the officers of the building trades. The Employers' Association claims that it has no grievance with the bricklayers, but that the attitude of the various branches of the trade "have forced the Employers Association beyond the point where a conference could possibly result in mutual benefit to them and the bricklayers' union." The bricklayers' union is said to have given of lent to the various other and weaker local unions that have asked their assistance nearly, if not quite, $1,000. The bricklayers do not intend to assist the other trades if they must weaken themselves by so doing.

VICIOUS DOGS.

An old citizen, who visits this office, complains that there are two vicious dogs at the southwest corner of Duke and Royal street which so far from being restrained by the boys and girls there are actually encouraged by them to attack passers-by. Twice this old gentleman has been attacked, once by one of the dogs and yesterday afternoon by two, which came very near biting him, and tore his umbrella while he was trying to prevent it. He also tells of a young lady, a relative of his, who was similarly attacked, and no doubt, others in passing, undergo the same trial. He very justly says that the nuisance is unbearable and that if it does not cease, he will call the attention of the proper authorities to the matter at once.

CHARGES AGAINST DRUGGISTS.

The case of a city druggist who is charged with compounding physicians' prescriptions without being a registered pharmacist or employing such at his place of business, was called in the Police Court this morning. On motion of Commonwealth's Attorney Brent the examination of the case was continued until next Tuesday.

Two other druggists had been cited to appear and show cause why they should not be fined for unlawfully disposing of morphine. Their cases were also continued until next Tuesday.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Rebecca and Mary Terrell, colored, charged with fighting in the streets, were fined $5 each.

A druggist, charged with violating the code by compounding physicians' prescriptions without being a registered pharmacist or having such at his place of business, had his case postponed until Tuesday.

Two druggists, charged with the unlawful sale of morphine, had their cases postponed until Tuesday.

Henry Hammond, colored, charged with contempt in not appearing as a witness, was fined $2.

A resident of upper King street, charged with maintaining a nuisance in the yard of a house belonging to him, was dismissed upon promising to abate the same at once.

E. C. Bragg and D. R. Harris, charged with placing a telegraph pole in front of a residence without the owner's permission, had their case continued.

COLUMBIA EXCURSION.

The excursion of the Columbia Fire Company to Marshall Hall yesterday was a successful and enjoyable affair. The boat was crowded with Alexandrians on every trip, especially at 7 p. m., when many ladies and gentlemen availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a pleasant ride on the Potomac. The return trip was made by moonlight. The following prizes were awarded by the company:

Three-legged race, won by Wm. Penn and Walter Douglas. Prize 50 cigars.

Greased pole, Wm. Chappell winner. Cash prize.

One hundred yard dash, Alexandria firemen, Wm. Penn winner. Prize rubber boots.

Egg race, lady participants, Miss Bertie Taylor winner. Prize lady's pocketbook.

Most popular fireman in Alexandria, R. L. Merchant winner. Prize rubber coat.

Lucky boat ticket, No. 171, Miss Mandy Entwisle winner. Prize $5 in gold.

CORPORATION COURT.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

The will of the late Andrew Underwood was admitted to probate and his widow, Sallie J. Underwood, qualified as executrix. The deceased left his estate, consisting maiuly of two small dwellings to his widow.

J. D. Matter vs. T. F. McCarthy; decree appointing Howard W. Smith and Robinson Moncure commissioners to sell property.

Estella Lee vs. Margaret Clark; on an issue out of chancery as to will of Harrison Allen, colored, deceased; jury and case in progress.

SISTER CYRIACA.

Many of our citizens will be sorry to hear that Sister Cyriaca, who has been so long at the head of St. Mary's Academy, has been elected Superior General of the Female Branch of the Order of the Holy Cross and must hereafter reside at its headquarters in Indiana. She is, however, as is well-known to the patrons of the academy, a lady of great discernment and having so many good teachers and directeresses at her disposal, will doubtless supply her place well.

AUCTION SALES TOMORROW.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, auctioneer, will offer at public sale in front of the Royal street entrance to the City Hall tomorrow the following real estate:

Five lots on Fairfax street near Franklin, and one lot on Franklin street, near Fairfax.

Capt. R. F. Knox, auctioneer, will at the same place and hour offer a lot of ground with the buildings thereon on the south side of King street near West.

FUNERAL.

The funeral services of the late Miss Margaret C. Conway took place this morning at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Lucy B. Smith, No. 801 Duke street. The services were conducted by Rev. C. D. Bulls. Later the remains were conveyed to the union station from which point they were forwarded to "Glencairne," Stafford county, where they will be interred.

ROBBERY IN THE COUNTY.

Twelve or fifteen Italian laborers last night informed Lieut. Smith that the house which they occupy, near St. Asaph, in the county, was entered yesterday afternoon, while they were at work some distance away, and robbed of its contents. Thirty suits of clothes, ten pairs of shoes, five pistols, twelve razors, and one black slouch hat were among the articles stolen.

ANOTHER REPULSE.

Another attempt was made by a "hostile" fleet last night to steal past Forts Washington and Hunt. The attempt was a patent failure, the fleet having been "annihilated." Many people from this city who were on excursion steamers and at points in the vicinity of the "conflict" witnessed the mimic battle.

The weather today has been warm and the skies overcast, with occasional light showers. The mercury at noon registered 91° but at 3 o'clock this evening it had dropped to 87°.

Mrs. Ayres' Charges.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 26—The hot shot fired by Mrs. Ayres, wife of Colonel Ayres, who has just been pushed out of the army by a medical board will not be noticed by the president. "If Mrs. Ayres writes any more letters to the President they will be referred to the war department," said Secretary Loeb today. It is intimated here that if Mrs. Ayres had been so ready with her pen in the past the colonel would be better off now.

Cyclone and Hail.

Wooster, Ohio, July 26.—Reports coming in today tell of heavy damage inflicted by the cyclone which struck Orrville, a town of 3,000 near here last night. A heavy fall of hail and rain accompanied the cyclone. Telephone and telegraph lines are down in all directions. Several buildings were unroofed at Orrville while damage in outlying towns and in the farming district is heavy.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 26.—There was a general broadening of the market this morning and commission houses express themselves as well satisfied with their business yesterday and so far today. The west continued buying stocks on a large scale. The disquieting feature of the market in the forenoon was the weakness in Southern Railway preferred, which fell 3 points to 62 1-2 on moderate sales.

The August American Magazine, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is a story number from beginning to end, even its leading article by Lincoln Steffens is a story, telling the early life of Francis J. Heney. Among the contributors of fiction this month are Josephine Daskam Bacon, Alice Hegan Rice, O. Henry, Marion Crawford, Jane Dalziel Wood and other well known writers. "Following the Color Line" is continued, David Grayson writes a character sketch, and "The Interpreter" tells the inside story of the making of Roosevelt.

The August Success, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is an attractive holiday number. Its leading article, "The Flood of Gold," tells of the steady increase of the standard metal, the danger of over production etc, "Play Ball!" is the story of our national game, and Ernest Thompson Seton contributes "Dogs of Song." "The Sanitary Home," "Hints to Investors," and "Pin Money Papers" are articles of interest, Advice is given "The Well-dressed Man" and the fiction verse and cartoons of this issue are excellent.

A WAIL.

I am married, yet no wife have I—
It is a grievous pity;
At home alone I mope and sigh—
My wife's gone to Atlantic City.

On the board walk, so gay and grand,
I see with keen prescient eye
How with smiles so sweetly bland
She ogles men as they pass by.

They say 'tis the style at this resort
To crowd in all the fun you can,
That everything is done in sport,
So take it quietly if you can.

Philosophy may assuage one's grief
And smooth the rugged paths of life;
But what the d—l can a husband do
To fill the place of absent wife?

Again I see her on the sea-girt beach
With silken hose and dressed so chick;
And some will say, "Isn't she a peach?"
Oh my! it surely makes me sick.

She writes: "My dear I'm out of money;"
I reply, "My account is overdrawn.
So you'd better come home at once, my honey,
Before everything goes into pawn."

SOTTISE.

Wise Counsel from the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. K. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles I was completely cured; so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy." Sold under guarantee at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store.

NEW EPITAPH FOR COLUMBUS.

When the body of Christopher Columbus, after the Spanish-American war, was brought back to Spain from Havana and placed in a magnificent sepulchre in the Cathedral at Seville, the Spaniards, smarting under the memory of their defeat, placed the following epitaph upon the tomb:

"When ungrateful America separated itself from the mother country Seville took back his bones." Now that the ill feeling against Americans has largely disappeared it is proposed to replace this epitaph with more appropriate words.

The municipality of Seville has consulted the Duke of Veragua, the descendant of Columbus, and the Duke has expressed not only willingness but pleasure at the idea of removing from the tomb such an unworthy piece of rancor toward America.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptons only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.
